welcome!

to the biggest boat show in a decade

"We are adding a lot more exhibits and family attractions to Ohio's oldest and largest boating and fishing show," explains Michelle Burke, president of the Lake Erie Marine Trades Association. "We are also adding an extra day, Monday, to the show's schedule to increase the opportunity for families to attend."

Specifically, Burke announced the extra day will be declared "KIDSday" on Monday, January 21, because it's the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday and schools and many offices are closed.

Enhancing the experience for visitors is what's driving so many changes this year. Bringing Twiggy, the world famous water skiing squirrel, out of retirement with a new comedy show tops the family entertainment schedule. But that's just the start.

Add a first-ever Lake Erie Nautical Crafts Market; a new Sailing Center with daily clinics and hands-on simulators; live kayak demonstrations and scuba diving lessons; special theme days like Kelleys Island "Sunday FUNday" and Monday "KIDSday" and more.

Dock a radio-controlled boat or take the wheel for a boat racing challenge, albeit on simulators in the Progressive Boat Club; climb into kayaks or a rowing scull in the Cleveland Metroparks area; test your casting skills and enjoy the giant Berkley Aquarium shows in the Fish NOW Expo Center; have kids build their own model boat; and be challenged by the power boat simulator of the U.S. Power Squadrons, to note a few more.

"The stars of the show will be over 400 new power and sailboats," emphasizes Burke. "If it's a major brand it will be represented by dealers from across Ohio. And, it's a one-stop shopping opportunity with special show prices and great incentives for buyers, too," she adds.

It starts with the "Queen of the Fleet," a luxurious Beneteau Gran Turismo 46 Yacht displayed by Skipper Bud's. Overall, the show boats will range down in size to inflatable dinghies, paddleboards and kayaks. Virtually every major boat brand will be included this year as dealers showcase their 2019 models.

For example, larger boats will be displayed by dealers like: MarineMax (Sea Ray, Azimut, Sailfish); South Shore Marine (Pursuit, Back Cover, Grady White, Regal); Pier 53 (Blackfin, Monterey); Jefferson Beach (HCB, Carver, Contender); Happy Days Boating (Chaparral, Robalo, Tidwater, Parker); Clemons Boats (Boston Whaler, Cobalt, Sea Hunt, NauticStar); Skipper Bud's (Beneteau, Tiara, Cruisers, Scout); Marine Tech Concepts (Formula), among others.

There will also be dozens of exhibits boasting boats for fishing, water skiing, wake boarding and, especially, the ever-popular pontoon boats. A few examples include: Buckeye Sports Center (Lund, Monterey, Harris, Mooba); Boat Masters Marine (Bennington, Chaparral, Robalo, Alumacraft); Vic's Sports (Ranger, Starcraft); Parma Marine (Alumacraft); Portage Lakes (PolarKraft, Regal); Atwood Lake (Harris, Sylvan), Ravenna Marine (Manitou, Crestliner), to name just some.

Education is also a big part of the show. Daily seminar topics range from "Boating with Smartphone Apps" to "Top Cruising Destinations." Meanwhile, over in the Fish NOW Expo section, tournament pros like Mark Brumbaugh, Jim Stedke and more will teach walleye fishing tactics daily backed up by the giant Berkley 5000-gallon aquarium.

We've changed a lot...
...to make your day
at the Boat Show more exciting

Welcome to our 2019 Progressive Cleveland Boat Show. If you visit every year, as so many boating families do, you will notice a big increase in features, hands-on activities and entertainment, all designed so you'll have a great "summer" experience while you're in the I-X Center.

Our exhibitors are proudly showing off the newest boats and equipment for 2019. Today's fast-paced boat designs and electronic technologies throughout the boating industry are amazing. Exhibitors from across northern Ohio and beyond are excited to welcome you aboard.

The special exhibits and features are purposely designed to provide a full day of enjoyment for everyone in your boating family. Not an hour will go by that there isn't some special entertainment or educational feature going on. From our popular seminars on general boating topics, to our lineup of professional angling clinics in the Fish NOW Expo, to the how to get started sailing in our new Sailboat Center, there are more than 50 presentations slated for this year.

We haven't forgotten the boating kids, either. Topped by Twiggy, the world famous water skiing squirrel and her new comedy show, there are more special things for kids, including many hands-on activities and a special KIDSday on Monday's Martin Luther King Jr. holiday.

We've turned the I-X Center into a winter escape, and we are glad you're sharing it with us.

Michelle Burke, President, Lake Erie Marine Trades Association

Ray Fogg, Westside Steve and Pat Sheppard, names synonymous with the good times of summer in Put-in-Bay, will headline the musical entertainment on opening night, January 17, at the Progressive Cleveland Boat Show.

In recent years, Put-in-Bay has been the first night’s focus in the aptly named section of the boat show. “It’s a mid-winter party at the boat show just as it is all summer long in our Lake Erie Islands,” notes Eric Booker, owner of the popular Boardwalk. “We expect the Put-in-Bay section, which features other displays from the Island, will be rocking with boaters listening to familiar songs while sipping our trademark Boardwalk Lobster Bisque which we bring to the show from ‘the bay’ fresh every day.”

Fogg records for Sweetwater Records and has entertained thousands over 22 years at “the bay” on South Bass Island. In fact, each year Fogg presides over the official opening and closing of the tourist season annually held in the island’s famous Round House.

Westside Steve has been dubbed the Island’s Ambassador because of his many TV appearances promoting Put-in-Bay. And he doesn’t just do it in Ohio. During the spring and fall, Steve is promoting Put-in-Bay while he’s entertaining on another island, Key West, Florida. There he can be found at popular Rick’s Bar, while during the summer he’s making music at the Crescent’s Patio Bar.

Joining Fogg and Steve will be another regular at “the bay,” Pat Sheppard. He can be found entertaining in the popular Frosty’s Bar. With his original songs, he says his hope is “most of the people can identify with and have experienced the stuff I am singing about.” He holds that a good performer can’t just play the guitar and sing. “People come to have fun and that’s what I bring to the table every chance I get to play.”

Twiggy returns with a new show

Twiggy, the world famous water skiing squirrel, will come out of retirement to return to entertain crowds at the Progressive Cleveland Boat Show in the I-X Center for 5 days, January 17-21.

Often cited as the most popular boat show entertainment feature ever created, Twiggy retired several years ago but will return to mark the 40th anniversary of her first trip around her special show pool. It left the audience in awe and resulted in invitations to ski in shows across the country. She eventually traveled to appearances in England, Germany, Canada and Japan. She also landed roles in the feature films "Anchorman" and "Dodgeball," and even joined country great Brad Paisley in a music video.

"It's forever summer at Twiggy's lagoon," says Michelle Burke, the boat show manager. "But this celebratory return will boast an all-new, fun-filled show with laughs, surprises and even a special guest named Roxie the Chawinnie, which mounts her lifeguard stand to watch over Twiggy's performance."

If history repeats itself, there will be as many adults as kids squeezing up to see Twiggy perform. And a totally new performance it will be this year. Twiggy will water ski, of course. But she'll also climb aboard her new Wakeboard because wakeboarding has become a huge activity in boating these days and Twiggy likes to keep up! She will also banter with her trainer Chuckie Best, the son of her original trainer, who has decided to craft the new show and bring her back.

"It's not your old Twiggy show anymore," promises Best. "We want to make people laugh and be awed by what she does before and after she zips around her lagoon. And while we won't stop messaging that kids must always think water safety, our new show is choreographed to be pure entertainment for young and old."

Before retiring, Twiggy actually appeared in the Cleveland Boat Show for 22 consecutive years during which thousands of show attendees gathered around her special pool to applaud the little Florida gray squirrel's feat. And, it was nothing for Twiggy to suddenly decide she'd showed off enough on the skis and leap into her special radio-controlled tow boat for a comfortable ride there. When she did it, the crowds loved it.

According to Best: "There was even a time or two when the boat pulled her very close to the pool's edge and Twiggy would decide to leap into a nearby stroller and curl up with its occupant!"

Twiggy is just one of a variety of other show features and activities this year, all surrounded by over 400 new power and sailboats, and more than 100 boating accessory and service displays that make up Ohio's largest annual boating event.

Twiggy is scheduled to perform on:

Thursday:
1 pm | 3 pm | 5 pm | 7 pm

Friday:
1 pm | 3 pm | 5 pm | 7 pm

Saturday:
11 am | 1:30 pm | 2:30 pm | 5:30 pm | 7:30 pm

“In search of the perfect wave,” once the quest of ocean surfboarders has been commandeered by a new breed of water sports enthusiasts who are expected to flock to the Progressive Cleveland Boat Show to see the latest boat models that will deliver just what they crave.

Until recently, the typical water sports boat was designed to produce as little wake as possible while towing slalom skiers, wakeboarders and tubers around at 25 mph or so. And while those models are still very big on the market, the hottest sellers have become boats carefully designed to produce a big wake on which to ride a surfboard. And, if you think it's just a trend enjoyed by, say, millennials, you're wrong.

“Wakesurfing is actually appealing to aging water sports enthusiasts,” explains Michelle Burke, president of the Lake Erie Marine Trades Association, “because it's a lower impact sport in which the surfer is going only 10-11 mph, doesn't have to hang on to a tow line, and when falls just drops into the water.”

At the boat show, visitors will get to explore wakesurfing models from many top builders who, along with building their traditional tow boats, are catering to the wakesurfers. For example, Buckeye Sports Center will be displaying the Malibu 23' LSV named 2018's Wakesurf Boat of the Year. Buckeye will also feature models like the Axis T22; the new Moomba Craz and Max 23; and the Super Air Nautique G23, dubbed the “Mecca” of wakeboats.

To create wakes, the boat manufacturers use systems that combine ballast tanks integrated into the hull and transom appendages similar to trim tabs but much bigger. It's all designed to pull the stern down to create more wake. Depending on the model, for example, a MasterCraft XT23 with its Gen 2 Surf System displayed in the boat show by Boat House Marine, the boat can add as much as 4000 pounds to the stern. While some boats are powered by straight inboards, others like the Regal 2300 Surf offered by Portage Lakes Marine feature Volvo Penta's Forward Drive sterndrive.

The sophistication of the newest water sports boats defies the imagination. The driver can sit down, punch in some info on the touch screens at the helm about the desired activity and the wakesurfer's preferences, and off they go. Even the surfer can control which side of the wake he wants to ride and what being played on the stereo speakers with a touch on his wrist band!

Still even with all this sophistication, the water sports models still basically feature excellent passenger capacity, so lots of family and friends can be aboard whether towing kids on tubes or just taking a spin around the lake.

The boat show will include more than 400 power and sailboats this year, the largest edition in a decade. It will drop anchor in Cleveland's I-X Center for 5 days, January 17-21. For more information, go to: www.clevelandboatshow.com.

9 reasons kids love the Boat Show

From toddlers to teens, a variety of kids' hands-on activities and entertainment will be front and center at the 2019 Progressive Cleveland Boat Show. Here are the top nine kid features that will keep them, and parents, enjoying their day at the show:

1 Twigg, the world famous water skiing squirrel, will zip around her lagoon on skis and a wakeboard in an all new comedy show that even features Roxie, the Chiwinnie lifeguard overseeing things from her lifeguard stand. Twigg comes out of retirement to return to Cleveland and will perform several shows each day.

2 Ohio Sea Grant will present a variety of hands-on activities including tying a fishing lures; viewing, touching and holding live snakes (Saturday thru Monday only); spinning the Lake Erie Prize Wheel and earning prizes while learning about Lake Erie; dress up in Lake Erie themed costumes for taking pictures in the photo booth; and receiving special educational materials.

3 Take the helm of a racing boat and compete with others on an obstacle course using special simulators in the Progressive Insurance Harbor display. They can also attempt to dock a radio-controlled cruiser and learn to properly cleat a line, among other interactive features.

4 The Cleveland Metroparks special exhibit will offer kids a variety of “experiences.” The “elCee2” Water Taxi will be on display and ready for boarding. While on board, Kids will “fish” for magnetic fish and can win small prizes. They can also climb into an amphibian patrol vehicle for pictures, sit in hand-powered watercraft along with other hands-on and educational displays.

5 See the fish! Kids will be awed when they stare into the Berkley 5000-gallon live aquarium and see some big bass looking back at them. In the “Fish Now Expo” section of the show, kids will also learn to cast a fishing pole and properly throw a line, among other activities including special kid's fishing clinics.

6 Build a Mini Boat at the Cleveland Amateur Boat Builders Society exhibit where kids can assemble, decorate and take home their own mini power or sailboat using a kit created by society members.

7 You are the Captain and take the throttle and helm of a Boston Whaler in the U.S. Power Squadron's display, albeit via a multi-screen simulator. It's as real as it gets when an instructor suddenly changes the wind and waves to make it a real challenge for each captain.

8 Meet the Mermaid! Never seen a mermaid? Then come and meet our Boat Show Mermaid. It's a unique photo op for the whole family (bring you camera or smartphone) to be pictured with this beautiful lady, fish take and all! (Saturday and Sunday Only)

9 Special Monday (Jan. 21) is KIDSday. In addition to all the activities and features every day at the boat show, the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday on Monday (no school!) has been declared KIDSday with extra features like nautical-theme face painters and balloon artists strolling the aisles. It's also Sea Grant Day with one dollar of each admission going toward research at the Stone Laboratory on Gibraltar Island.

The boat show combines education, hands-on activities and entertainment for the kids. It's because boating is a family sport and the kids aren't just dragged into the show by boating parents but have a good time of their own.

The Boat Show presents its biggest fishing fleet in years

Mystic 42 CC

From kayaks to motor yachts, pontoons to ski boats, the 2019 Progressive Cleveland Boat Show will also be loaded with new fishing boats, many getting their first showing in the Ohio market.

While the bigger boats always garner publicity, new designs at this year's show will be found in every size category. And, since surveys indicate 70 percent of all boats are used for fishing at least part of the time, the popularity of angling in Ohio means new fishing models at the show will surely draw lots of attention.

For example, Boston Whaler is a venerable name in fishing machines and there will be the largest display of new Whalers at 17 models in the history of the boat show. They'll range from 13' to 38', including the premiere showing of new 130SS and 160SS models on up to the all-new Whaler Realm 35 footer and the 38-foot Outrage. In addition, 10 NauticStar angling models and the new Albemarle 27DC with sistership Albemarle 29 will all be found in a huge 30-boat display by Sandusky's Clemons Boats.

But if you want to go bigger, how about the first public showing of the Mystic 42 Center Console displayed by Catawba Moorings (Port Clinton.) This fishing giant will be powered by four Mercury 350 h.p. white outboards. It also boasts a cabin that sleeps two, Garmin electronics and, like every Mystic a unique custom paint. Catawba Moorings will display top fishing models from Regulator, World Cat and Key West.

The Pursuit brand is synonymous with fishing, too. South Shore Marine (Huron) might need crowd control when anglers spot the new Pursuit 408. This boat is slick but the power behind it slicker – triple new Yamaha XYO 425 V8 outboards that are being cited as a game changer in such power. Meanwhile, Scout brand center consoles fishing machines will be led by the Scout 355LXF, along with the 320LXF and 215XSF models and will be found in Skipper Bud's (Port Clinton) exhibit. And, it doesn't stop there.

Fishing models from Robalo and Alumacraft will be ready for boarding in the Boat Masters Marine (Akron) exhibit, while Starcraft's latest will be displayed by Burroughs Marine (Clyde).

Pursuit 408

Polar Kraft 2010 CC

Starcraft Titan 186

Beaver Park Marina (Lorain) will be displaying the newest center consoles from the Sea Fox Commander lineup.

There will be plenty more. Notably, Parma Marine will show off a series of Alumacraft Fishing Boats, while Vic's Sport Center (Kent) will present the full lineup of high performance bass and walleye fishing boats from Ranger, Starcraft and Starweld. More brands will include Sailfish models from MarineMax (Port Clinton) and Polar Krafts displayed by Portage Lake Marine (Akron).

Ravenna Marine (Ravenna) will display a fishing boat feast including Crestliner's Fish Hawk side consoles, Commanders and Raptor models, along with the newest Thunder Jet fishing models including the Luxor and Explorer models.

The boat show also features daily fishing clinics by tournament-winning pros, along with demonstration from atop the Berkley Supertank 5,000-gallon Aquarium stocked with bass.

Why buy at the Boat Show?

It's fun, entertaining and warm with its summer feeling in mid-winter, but the boat show is also serious business for boaters and wannabe's who are set on buying a new boat now.

So, why do so many boaters wait until boat show time to buy? Here are five reasons:

1 Touch and Feel! We're living in a digital age. People do lots of research online. That's good. But they can't touch, feel and smell a boat on a computer screen. The boat show allows buyers to come face-to-face with a wide variety of boats and, particularly, spend time boarding and fully inspecting the model they may want to own.

2 Saves Valuable Time: "The boat show is the only place where a buyer can see dozens of brands and models in a single location," explains Tom Mack of South Shore Marine. "It saves a lot of driving time going from one dealer's showroom to another, and time these days seems in short supply. It's easiest to compare boats at the boat show."

3 Great Incentives: "Sales incentives are a big part of marketing today," says Gary Tennefoss at Ravenna Marine, "and our boat and motor manufacturers back up dealers like us with their biggest yearly incentive packages. These can range from extra discounts and free extended warranties to major rebates and other valuable offers, but they're normally available only while we're exhibiting in the boat show."

4 Competition: Jason Clemons of Clemons Boats sees it this way: "As dealers, we are unified in supporting boating and our boating industry. But there's no denying we must compete for market share whether we're selling small aluminum skiffs or 50-foot motor yachts. And that's never more evident than when we're looking across the aisle at each other on the floor of the boat show. The result is the year's most competitive pricing and real savings for buyers."

5 Timing is Everything: The boat show is in January. The weather outside is frightful but the I-X Center is delightful. After all, people aren't rushing into dealer showrooms in the cold to buy their boat. "It's timing," points out Todd Armstrong at Boat Masters Marine. "It's actually the reason the boat show is held January. We dealers need to sell boats in dead winter and the boat show crowds produce a successful sales month or us. Serious buyers take advantage of the lower show pricing and incentives we can offer. It's a win-win."

Gran Turismo is Queen of Show

If an owner's suite with a unique full beam view of the water on both sides peaks your interest, the luxurious new Gran Turismo 46 Motor Yacht will surely command your attention at this year's Progressive Cleveland Boat Show.

The Gran Turismo will reign as 2019 "Queen of the Fleet" over the more than 400 boats making up Ohio's largest boat show. Designed and built by Beneteau Yachts, the "Queen" will be making her first area public appearance.

Gorgeous woodwork enhanced by lavish materials such as titanium, leather and lacquer finishes create a rich and comfortable atmosphere below in either a two or three cabin well-ventilated layout boasting lots of natural light.

Topside is a spacious but protected open cockpit with electric glazed windows and an optional full-opening glass door and an aft galley. The perfect marriage of brains and brawn, the Gran Turismo is the latest generation of Beneteau sport cruisers boasting the Air Step 2 hull design.

The patented Air Step 2 technology increases the volume of air inflow under the hull threefold, thereby reducing fuel consumption and increasing acceleration. It's also compatible with Volvo IPS drives. The combination provides excellent seakeeping, minimal resistance through waves, linear acceleration and tight turns.

The "Queen" will be displayed by SkipperBud's located at Marina Del Isle, Port Clinton. But, it won't be the only new model they'll have at the boat show. The big exhibit will include new Tiara 44, 39, 38, and 34 models; the Cruisers 42 Cantius and 39 Express; and multiple new models from Four Winns, Scout, Scarab and JC Tritoon.

This year's boat show will be the largest since 2008. It reflects the steady increase in boat sales and the emphasis major boat builders are placing on introducing new designs.

Sun Odyssey 349 is a perfect combination of performance, comfort and safety on the water

From the very first glance, the Sun Odyssey 349 captivates with her pure lines, generous interior volume and inviting cockpit. Designed by Marc Lombard and true to the values of the Sun Odyssey line, the 349 is the perfect combination of performance, comfort and safety at sea. Whether in the cockpit or at the helm, at anchorage or at sea, you will enjoy taking full advantage of this seaworthy, stable and easy-to-handle sailboat. Escape from the everyday and taste the pleasures of family cruising. With two or three cabins, a spacious saloon and a very functional galley, the Sun Odyssey proves both well considered and inviting. High quality woodwork accents an incredibly bright, well-lit interior. Come aboard the 349 and enter the world of Sun Odyssey presented by Riverfront Yacht Sales & Service in the Sailing Center at the Progressive Cleveland Boat Show.

Sailing simulators invite guests to feel real cockpit action at the show's Sailing Center

Two of the few electronic sailing simulators in existence will be available for test sails and match racing around a big video racecourse in the Sailing Center at the Cleveland Boat Show. The simulators are provided by Sandusky Sailing Club.

Wind speed, gusts and current programmed into the simulators make for a realistic and challenging sailing experience the user controls with both tiller and mainsheet while seated in the simulator cockpit. The cockpit heels as it responds to wind conditions and tack changes.

The Sailing Center is a Cleveland Boat Show first where all sailing related exhibits will be located. Visitors can see sailboats of all shapes and sizes, visit sailmakers, locate both adult and junior learn-to-sail opportunities and check out marinas, charter services, sailing clubs and of course, the sailing simulators.

The Sandusky Sailing Club boasts an enviable physical facility with a versatile, full-service clubhouse, a junior barn and extensive equipment for learn-to-sail and junior racing programs. All this overlooks a well maintained, exclusively sailboat marina. An active year-round social and educational program compliments the Club's many and varied sailing and racing activities.

The Club makes its home at Sadler Sailing Basin adjacent to Battery Park near downtown Sandusky at 814 East Water Street, Sandusky, Ohio. The Club's website is www.sanduskysailingclub.com.

The club was founded in 1932 to promote sailing and seamanship and to encourage smaller sailboat racing and cruising among those who prefer an alternative to large annual dues and assessments.

Michelle Burke is named to lead LEMTA

The Cleveland-based Lake Erie Marine Trades Association has announced the appointment of Michelle L. Burke as president of the 100-plus member organization, replacing Bryan Ralston who resigned in October.

Burke joins LEMTA following 15 years at Case Western Reserve University. There she served as Director of International Education Programs as well as directing the Marketing and Recruiting for the Office of Graduate Education in the School of Medicine. During her tenure, she initiated the development of multiple short-term study abroad program throughout Europe and South America. These were CWRU's first such programs.

Burke is also the co-founder of Lyman Life, a company based on an America legacy boat brand established in 1875. Lyman Boats were Ohio-built wooden lapstrake craft designed with a very sharp entry and flared bow to specifically to handle Lake Erie's infamous short-steep chop. After acquiring her first Lyman, Burke and her husband gained the licensing rights to the Lyman mark and established a lifestyle brand for the boating community. Lyman Life is a lifestyle brand that embodies the roots of boating at its best. Lyman Life simply is the boating life: Life by the water with family and friends; a life rooted in family, quality and tradition. In only two years, Burke grew Lyman Life into a phenomenal collection of branded clothing and merchandise on the internet and in local upscale retail stores.

In her new position, Burke will head up the association's five boat shows as well as providing oversight to the LEMTA Educational Trust and the lobbying initiatives of the Boat Ohio Foundation dba Boating Associations of Ohio.

She is a graduate of Boston College and holds a Masters degree from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio.

LEMTA produces the following boat shows: Progressive Cleveland Boat Show; Progressive Akron Boat & Water Sports Show; Progressive Catawba Island In-Water Boat Show; the Progressive North American In-Water Show at Cedar Point; and the Progressive North Coast Harbor Boat Show.

dise sold online and at high-end retailers. Lyman Life will also have a big display that will include an 18-foot Lyman.

Speaking of classic "woodies," the show's Antique and Classic Boat Society exhibit seems certain to take boomers back to their childhood boating days with the oldest boat on display dating back more than 60 years! It's the Chris Craft Sportsman 17 built in 1955 and still as seaworthy as ever.

More antiques this year will include a restored 1959 Penn Yan, a 1962 Cruisers, Inc, and the once very popular Chris Craft Super Sport. In addition, a selection of antique outboard motors will be on display while members of the society talk to visitors about the history of each boat.

The Antique Society has been among the most popular exhibitors in the boat show for more than 45 consecutive years.

For a list of all show features, go to: www.clevelandboatshow.com.

While the newest in fiberglass and aluminum boats will take center stage at this year's Progressive Cleveland Boat Show, boating history buffs won't be disappointed in the oldies but "woodies" that will make up two special nostalgia exhibits.

Boats from the past bearing famous names like Lyman, Penn Yan, Cruisers and Chris Craft will be included in exhibits being presented by the Lyman Life brands and Lyman Boat Works, as well as the North Coast Ohio Antique & Classic Boat Society.

Lyman is an iconic American legacy brand initiated in 1875 and once built in Sandusky, is still revered by current owners of these wooden lapstrake "Clinker-Built" craft specially designed to handle Lake Erie's notorious short chop. There are still hundreds plying the waters each summer.

A special Lyman historical display created by Lyman Boat Works will examine the brand's rich history, walk visitors through the processes once used to build Lymans, and include daily live seminars by owners Tom and son Ryan Koroknay. The "vintage themed" exhibit will include historic photos from the Lyman archives that were never published in the book "Lyman Boats - Legend of the Lakes."

Moreover, in keeping with today's craft beer craze, a new Lyman Boat Beer will be served at the boat show for the first time. Brewed by Ohio's Sibling Revelry Brewing Company, it's an extension of Lyman Life, a lifestyle brand that features select merchan-

Edgewater's 262cx makes its Ohio launch at the show

EdgeWater recently appointed Castaway Yacht Sales of Port Clinton, Ohio as a dealer. Castaway will present EdgeWater's new 262cx at the Cleveland Boat Show.

Known as a premier builder of family-oriented center console and crossover models, EdgeWater is proud to introduce the 262cx (crossover). This new model represents the latest evolution of EdgeWater's market-leading design and technology.

Designed to perform with twin engines, the 262cx is standard equipped with quiet, reliable twin Yamaha 200hp four-stroke outboards. An all-new deep-V hull design gives it superior performance, handling and ride – perfect for the adventurous conditions on Lake Erie.

The 262cx incorporates some of the best design elements from EdgeWater's high-tech 370cc. The result combines all the comforts of a dual console model with the performance and fishability of a center console. The 262cx has luxurious wraparound bow seating with integrated, forward-facing backrests and rod storage. A starboard entry door opens to a spacious and well-appointed head compartment, and you'll find a separate generous storage space. The leaning post is a new design available in many different configurations; options include a premium cooler, grill, sink, storage and/or cutting board. A starboard dive door is standard for added convenience and accessibility.

For information, see Castaway Yacht Sales at the show, or call (419) 732-2938, or go to www.castawayyachtsalesllc.com.

Improvements underway for two area Safe Harbor marinas

Safe Harbor Marinas, the world's largest marina company, is dedicated to continually improving their marinas to enhance their Members' boating experience. As of 2019, Safe Harbor proudly owns and operates seven marinas in the Midwest region, including two in Ohio: Lakefront Marina in Port Clinton and Sandusky Harbor Marina in Sandusky. Both of these marinas have exciting projects in store for 2019.

At Lakefront Marina, phase one of a three million-dollar project to replace and upgrade the marina docks is already underway. Over 120 slips at Lakefront are being replaced with brand new, floating docks manufactured by Meeco Sullivan. The new docks can accommodate boats up to 35 feet and offer Members ease of docking with wider slip widths and deeper wells. Member access will also be improved with wider main header walkways and wider finger piers. All of the new slips will have brand new 30-amp power pedestals with a new water system and lighting. In addition to the new slips, Lakefront is also completely replacing and reconfiguring their rack docks. The brand-new rack docks will include an expanded courtesy docking area for the rack program with up to 270 feet of dock space (or the equivalent of 12 slips).

The project is set to be completed by May 1, 2019. Lakefront Marina is now accepting slip reservations for the 2019 boating season. Find out more about Port Clinton's premier marina at Booth 229 during the Boat Show or check them out online at LakefrontMarina.com/new-docks.

Sandusky Harbor Marina also has some great projects planned for 2019 that are centered around improving community and convenience at their marina. A brand new, on-the-water gangway will be installed which will connect all of the finger piers throughout the marina. The new gangway will not only improve Member access, but it will also enhance the community experience at Sandusky Harbor as Members will now be able to easily visit their neighbors and walk between piers. The community experience will also be improved on the land side with a remodeled customer pavilion complete with grills, picnic tables and plenty of shade. The swimming pool will also be renovated, and a new pool deck will complete the space.

The projects at Sandusky Harbor Marina are scheduled to be ready for the 2019 boating season. Reserve your slip today. Find out more about this wonderful community at Booth S6 at the Boat Show or visit them online at SanduskyHarbor.com.

The Lake Erie Foundation works to keep Lake Erie great

The Progressive Cleveland Boat Show reminds boaters and all others who love water recreation that winter won't be with us forever! Boat dealers, marinas, nautical supply companies, and waterfront tourism destinations all come together to let show visitors know about new opportunities to enjoy the water, especially our Lake Erie.

What if, however, Lake Erie was labeled unsafe because people could get ill from being in or on its waters? If this became a widely accepted belief, it's likely there would be no reason to have this boat show, because most exhibitors would likely not be in business.

Enter the Lake Erie Foundation (LEF) with a clear mission to Create and Maintain a Healthy Lake Erie Now and Forever.

LEF was formed in 2016 by a group of Lake Erie-bordering businesses, property owners, boaters, concerned citizens, scientists, educators, and more. While many state and local agencies have been working over the years to restore and protect our lake, the LEF stands as the one organization whose sole mission is to ensure a healthy Lake Erie.

Those who attend the boat show probably know better than non-boaters the many times in recent years we've seen certain areas on Lake Erie dubbed unsafe. Millions have heard about the algal blooms and the 2014 Toledo drinking water crisis that made national news. Indeed, many distrust their city's water source.

But while these situations exist, thankfully the overall perception of our lake is that it's a safe place for water recreation. As we continue to enjoy it, we also must do all we can to support efforts to protect it, and that includes supporting organizations like the LEF that's working to ensure a healthy lake.

A major goal of the LEF is to implement The Lake Erie Plan, an integrated, inspirational and comprehensive campaign to educate, empower, encourage, and hold accountable federal, state, and local government officials, producers, and other stakeholders to achieve a 40% nutrient reduction goal that is necessary for sustaining a healthy lake. LEF also is involved in conversations about invasive species, wind turbines, public water treatment, and other relevant issues to Lake Erie and other water bodies.

The LEF will be presenting daily "Lake Erie Issues and Insights" programs detailing current challenges with our lake. Show goers can learn more about the LEF at its exhibit, and how you can help their efforts. A 501 C (3) organization, visit LEF at: www.LakeErieFoundation.org.

Regal Boats have the absolute highest standards and innovation with no compromise in luxury, performance and elegance. Paul and Carol Kuck founded Regal Marine Industries in 1969. In the pursuit of a vision, they left the legacy of a new world class standard in boating luxury. However, the hope was initially set back in 1973 when the Kucks lost most of their original investment to the energy crisis. "Whatever happens from this time forward," Paul prayed, "is because of You." With God's help and bold determination, the Kucks began to reinvent innovation and customer service - leading to more than 40 years of success. Today, Regal boats define state-of-the-art craftsmanship, and continue to carry Paul and Carol's philosophy that faith and stewardship will always guide the way.

Regal Boats was recognized as the "Boat of The Year" by Boating Magazine for the 2017 model year. Regal - the essence of style and class - brings to the boating market the most innovative designs and performance. Join Portage Lakes Marine and the Regal family and see the difference for yourself.

Welcome to the Great Lakes Cruising Club School

The highly acclaimed internet-based GLCCSchool is presently launching its ninth year of live and recorded webinars. With a comprehensive curriculum covering everything from cruising skills to favorite cruising destinations, GLCCSchool has become a premier source of practical training for sail and power cruisers on the Great Lakes and beyond. All you need to participate is a computer, laptop or tablet with speakers and an internet connection. GLCCSchool Webinars are live and interactive with class recordings available after the live events for later review.

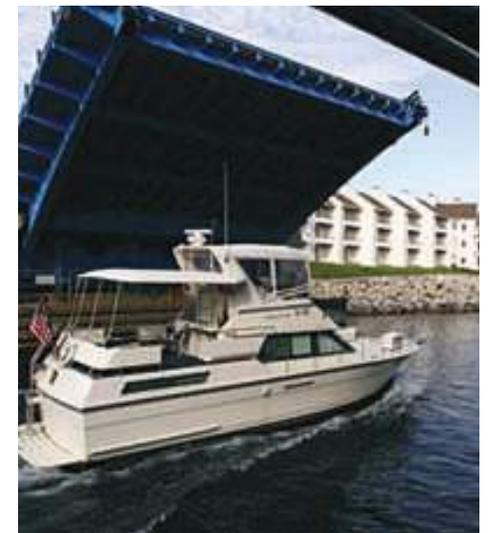

To really learn about the GLCCSchool, go to the school's website at www.glccschool.com. You can easily browse the website without ever having to join, log on or register. When you find what a great opportunity the GLCCSchool is and decide you want to register for a webinar, you will need to enroll in the GLCCSchool. Enrollment is free and open to everyone. A great benefit of enrolling is you will receive regular email notices of upcoming webinars. Those timely notices will make sure you don't run the risk of missing that special webinar you've been waiting for.

Classes are very affordable, typically $20.00 (with a $5.00 discount offered to members of the Great Lakes Cruising Club and the US Power Squadron). Registering for a class is easy and much like buying something from Amazon or other online retailers. Just go the GLCCSchool website, log on with your ID and password, find the class you want to take and click on the course title. From there just follow the simple steps in the check-out process. After check-out, you'll receive an email confirmation plus information about how and when to view your live webinar or recording.

One of the special features in the GLCCSchool is that every live webinar is recorded. If you watch a live webinar but then a few days later want to review all or part of that webinar it is very easy to do. The recorded version of your webinar will be available to you with no additional charge for six to eight weeks. The GLCCSchool's special recording feature also lets you watch a webinar even if the date of the live broadcast conflicts with your schedule. Just register for that webinar's recording in the six to eight week period after the live broadcast and you too will have unlimited access to the webinar.

Want to know what's in store on the GLCCSchool this year? Here's a partial list of classes planned: Cruising Lake Erie; Cruising Northern Georgian Bay; Cruising Lake Ontario's Bay of Quinte and 1,000 Islands; Cruising Lake Michigan Eastern Shore; Cruising Lake Huron; Cruising Lake Superior; North Chanel Anchorage and Ports; The Georgian Bay's 10,00 Island; Passage Through The Trent-Severn Waterway; The Great Loop Adventure; Cruising Safety; Cooking and Cruising on the Great Lakes; Weather Savvy Mariner, Four Part Series; Navigating Locks; Dinghy Selection, Operation and Safety; Marine Radar; Marine Battery Selection and Maintenance; Diesel Maintenance, Three Part Series.

About the Great Lakes Cruising Club...

Founded in 1934 The GLCC is an organization of over 2,500 US and Canadian members dedicated to encouraging all boaters to explore the length and breadth of our five beautiful Great Lakes. One of the GLCC's goals is furthering learning and education about the Lakes and about boating. The GLCC has invested a great deal of time and energy into its GLCCSchool as this excellent endeavor gets right to the heart of meeting that goal. Erie Islands Sailing School celebrates their 8th season

Erie Islands Sailing School will celebrate its eighth season in 2019. Founded in 2012 by Tim McKenna, the school offers sailing classes taught to the standards of the American Sailing Association. Classes taught to the ASA Standards begin with the Basic Keelboat class and run through advanced Coastal Cruising and Navigation classes. Erie Islands Sailing also offers private lessons, bareboat and crewed charters, special events, corporate team building and more. According to Tim, having the primary location at the Sandusky Harbor Marina gives novice sailors the protected waters of Sandusky Bay as a great place to learn the basics, while the proximity of Lake Erie and the Islands provide challenging and fun sailing for the advanced sailing and cruising classes. For the experienced sailor, a weekend charter to the Islands is a great way to spend sailing time with friends and family.

The Cleveland location for Erie Islands Sailing School will be up and running in 2019. Located at the Edgewater Marina, the entry level Basic Keelboat and intermediate level Basic Coastal Cruising classes will be offered. A partnership with Riverfront Yachts will also expand the private charter and corporate events in the Cleveland area.

As a way of saying “Thanks”, Erie Islands Sailing School is one of the ASA affiliate schools offering discounts to our veterans and active military personnel. A $50 discount will be offered to all military and their families off the price of the AS 101 Basic Keelboat class during 2019.

Everyone at Erie Islands Sailing School looks forward to having you join us for the 2019 sailing season!

Trail(er)ing Thoughts

Make it sweet!

By Megan Meisler
Co-Owner, Loadmaster Trailer Co. Ltd.

Winter boat shopping has begun. Prepare yourself to be in awe of the new features and accessories now offered on boats of all styles. Anything you can think of basically exists: custom lighting beyond comprehension, safety features, joy stick engine controls, remarkable electronic, navigation and radio systems. Of course there are gnarly graphic options, seating arrangements, record breaking engine options and stereo systems as well. The list is endless and the ability to customize the boat to your needs is unfathomable.

Did you know there are some pretty sweet options you can add to your custom boat trailers as well: incredible custom LED Lighting packages, fancy aluminum wheels, stylish tool boxes, freshwater wash outs, custom decals, mid-frame turn signals, back up lights, stunning metallic paint jobs, drive guards to protect your engines/props, ladders to access the bow of your boat, structural walkways for usability, and more!

Now that many people are towing larger, heavier boats the need for certain safety options has increased. Our customers choose Flag Holders, Strobe Lights (if necessary) and many of the different lighting options to make other drivers on the road more aware. Similar to boats, the options can be endless depending on your required use and desires for your trailer. Here are a few photos of just a handful of the incredible custom options available to ensure your awesome boat looks stunning on the trailer, all while being properly and adequately supported.

The Solstice RD 260, a modern take on the "double-decker" style pontoon boat. For starters, the Solstice RD 260 maintains the standard beam width of 8 feet 6 inches so it will fit in a standard boat slip. The fiberglass pontoon boat water-slide is designed to direct users away from the engine, extending outward for safer entry into the water. EVA foam pads the rungs of the ladder, providing soft and sure-footed access to the top deck. The sun deck can be a great place to catch some rays while listening to your favorite tunes via two upper-speakers and additional stereo controls. Even with the taller profile of the RD 260 it has a very stable ride, and carefully engineered weight distribution. Get ready for endless days of fun sliding down the slide and letting the sun dry your skin on the Solstice RD 260. See the Solstice at the Atwood Lake Boat display at the show or visit www.atwoodlakeboats.com.

Many boaters pay no attention to their drive systems until a breakdown occurs. Most repairs could have been avoided by a simple inspection. Adjustments, balancing and replacing damaged parts can be arranged when laying your boat up for the season. You can save time and money by checking your props, shafts – inboard and outboard, along with the other related hardware.

If you see a chip in a blade of a propeller or if a blade has hit the bottom (even in sand), the prop will likely be out of balance. When checking your I/O or outboard props, check the drive shaft by noting the difference from the center of the shaft to the housing. If you damaged and replaced a prop during the season, your shaft could be bent. A slight bend may not be noticeable but over time, it can create major problems.

When looking at your shaft on an outboard or I/O, you may see a collection of monofilament fishing line wrapped around it. This may have already caused a seal or bearing problem that could allow water to enter the lower unit. If it is discovered this happened, a new seal and fresh lubricant can prevent a major failure from developing.

While you are checking the shaft area, it's a good idea to check the water pump impeller because it is often damaged from running in sand or it may have taken a set in the vanes.

Inboard propellers can be out of balance and go un-noticed, especially if the amount is slight but now is the time to get them balanced. Examine the shafts by holding a solid measuring device against the bottom, turn the shaft and note any variance. Do the same at the end and the center.

If you've had an encounter with the bottom during the past season, you should also check your struts and rudders for damage. When checking the shaft area, look at the strut bearing because it may be worn or damaged. Just move the shaft up and down – if there is play in the rubber bushing, replace the bearing. If the bushing appears to be coming out of the metal, that also could indicate a wearing problem.

Replacement may be necessary for this part to prevent a future problem.

Lay-up time is the best opportunity to check your drives because during the off season repair facilities are looking for work. If they have all winter to gather needed parts and make the needed repairs, you won't be held up in the spring. If you wait until spring, there is sure to be delays and back-ups at service centers.

When you store your boat, whether on a trailer or at a marina, it's a good idea to remove your propellers. This will take weight off inboard shafts and struts plus eliminate any possibility of theft. Here's another tip; when you are up in the boat checking around, if you see severe stains on your decks, clean them up. If you wait, they will be permanently set by spring when you get the boat out of storage.

If DIY is not for you, have your marina check the above mentioned areas. If needed, they can put the repairs in their schedule and have time to complete them before the rush at launch. You should plan to be available when they do the vessel examine so they can explain any needed repairs and you can authorize them.

Opposition to wind turbines on Lake Erie keeps growing

The battle to keep wind turbines from destroying Lake Erie continues to gain support as more Ohioans learn the truth about a plan proponents admit will lead to hundreds more environmentally destructive, industrial-size windmills from being deployed.

Under consideration by the Ohio Power Siting Board is a requested permit by the Lake Erie Energy Development Company (LEEDCo) to construct a "demonstration" project of wind turbines, dubbed "Icebreaker," in the lake off Cleveland.

"That application should have been rejected by the OPSB last November," says Tom Mack, chairman of the Lake Erie Marine Trades Association, "but they failed to do their job and kicked the can down the road to, presumably, February. The evidence against the proposal is already crystal clear and we're calling on the OPSB to meet their statutory obligation to protect Ohio's greatest natural resource and reject the application."

Icebreaker is meant to trigger building a thousand or more 480' whirling turbines in Lake Erie. "The opposition keeps building when more people discover LEEDCo will sell off their assets including a Submerged Land Lease to a foreign Norwegian company, Fred Olsen Renewables," described Dave Strang of SaveOurBeautifulLake.org. Olsen will reap U.S. taxpayer subsidies to build it, use tax credits to enhance their profits, then sell power to Cuyahoga County and Cleveland Public Power at agreed upon prices that are well above current market rates for electricity."

Even more important, say opponents, is the environmental dark side that LEEDCo doesn't want the public to know. The limited environmental assessment report funded by LEEDCo has been given thumbs down by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service that already recommends wind turbines not be placed in or within 3 miles of the Great Lakes. Further, in 2016 Dan Everson of the USF&W determined Icebreaker warranted a full Environmental Impact Assessment which OPSB has failed to require. Without it, no permit should be considered.

In the Cleveland area, there are more than 50 years of toxins from dredging the Cuyahoga River that are currently entombed in mud layers on the lake bottom. (Notably, Ohio has just passed a law ending dredge dumping in Lake Erie by 2020). Constructions of turbines, along with laying all their power cables, will release these now-buried toxins back into north east Ohio's water supply. Overall, the lake provides drinking water to 11 million Ohioans.

LEEDCo has existed for more than a decade solely because $50 million in taxpayer-funded grants have enriched the few connected to it. The public hasn't been told it could never stand on its own. Just the need to maintain backup reserve energy in land-based electric plants for times when the wind doesn't blow enough greatly increases the operating costs of offshore power. Unknown maintenance issues, especially during Lake Erie's frozen winter, will make offshore turbines even less reliable.

Put-in-Bay's Bob Adamov is signing his latest novel at the show Award-winning Put-in-Bay author Bob Adamov will be back and signing his eleventh novel during the show. He'll be near the Put-in-Bay area of the show.

"My new book, Chincoteague Calm, is primarily based on Chincoteague Island which is like Put-in-Bay on valium. What a peaceful setting for me to disturb with unsolved murders and saboteurs causing NASA rocket explosions across the bay on Wallops Island," Adamov commented. "This alluring island is well known for its annual pony swim and the famous children's book – Misty of Chincoteague."

Chincoteague Calm continues the popular and growing Emerson Moore series created by Adamov in 2002. His string of island best-sellers includes Rainbow's End, Pierce the Veil, When Rainbows Walk, Promised Land, The Other Side of Hell, Tan Lines, Sandustee, Zenobia, Missing and Golden Torpedo. His writing style has been compared to best-selling authors Clive Cussler and Tom Clancy.

The story in brief – Chincoteague Calm

NASA rocket explosions and a series of unsolved murders disrupt the idyllic calm of Chincoteague Island, a quiet barrier island on Virginia's east coast better known for its annual pony swim.

Put-in-Bay investigative reporter Emerson Moore's relaxing fishing vacation to Chincoteague Island is interrupted when he becomes embroiled in deadly international intrigue affecting NASA rocket launches.

The author quips, "What a peaceful setting for me to disturb with unsolved murders and saboteurs..."

Assisted by the sultry director of nearby Wallops Island's NASA facility, the sarcastic head of NASA security, the charming owner of Captain Bob's Marina, and a mysterious loner, Moore works his way through a maze of suspects, including some local troublemakers and rocket experts from Russia, China and Europe – any of whom might be motivated to sabotage the U.S. space program.

Bodies start dropping faster than horses running from a wildfire while Moore is still knee-deep in identifying who's behind all the chaos, treachery and deception. Lives can be saved if only Moore can discover who is sabotaging the U.S. space program – and why – all while preventing himself from becoming a victim.

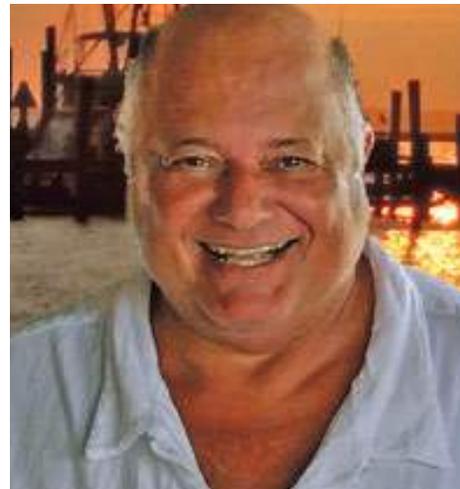

Murder, cross and double cross. Who's telling the truth?

Mixed with local Chincoteague Island flavor and characters, Chincoteague Calm is a breathless roller-coaster ride filled with twists, turns and gut-wrenching surprises as Moore works furiously to break through the fog of deception that has enveloped the once-peaceful island.

Twelfth novel in the works

Adamov is finalizing the next novel in the series – Flight, which deals with a mystery surrounding former Bellevue resident and railroad tycoon Henry Flagler and a train to Key West.

For more information or to have Adamov speak at your event, visit: www.BobAdamov.com or call: 330-289-7616. Follow Adamov on Facebook.

A River Burns in Cleveland

The Cuyahoga River has come a long way from that famous 1969 fire. Today, the waterfront is home to rowing clubs, restaurants and new real estate developments, all taking advantage of the improved aesthetics the Cuyahoga River Area of Concern Advisory Committee has been able to help create.

It's a story everyone who spends time in Cleveland hears eventually: in 1969, the Cuyahoga River caught on fire. It wasn't the first time the extremely polluted river had burned, but increased media attention and a shift in public sentiment towards environmental protection meant it was the last.

The Cuyahoga River fire inspired legislation like the Clean Water Act and the creation of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and raised awareness about the health of Lake Erie and its tributaries to the point where establishing Ohio's Sea Grant program became a no-brainer.

Over the next 16 years, newly created national, state and local efforts to clean up the lake went so well that Lake Erie's reputation quickly changed from North America's Dead Sea to the Walleye Capital of the World.

By 1985, the lake had recovered so much that two graduate students who were studying under Ohio Sea Grant's education coordinator Dr. Rosanne Fortner wrote to Dr. Seuss to ask him to update his book The Lorax. The line they objected to read "They'll walk on their fins and get woefully weary / In search of some water that isn't so smeary. / I hear things are just as bad up in Lake Erie."

Seuss sent an apology to the students, and promised to update the line in future editions of the book. "I should no longer be saying bad things about a body of water that is now, due to great civic and scientific effort, the happy home of smiling fish," Seuss wrote in his response. "Unfortunately, the purification of texts, like that of lakes, cannot be accomplished overnight. The objectionable line will be removed from future editions."

Today, work to restore the Cuyahoga River continues under the 1987 Great Lakes Water Quality Agreement and the U.S. Clean Water Act. The agreement declared the 43 dirtiest rivers and harbors in the Great Lakes watershed as Areas of Concern (AOCs) and put processes in place to address the specific issues affecting each river. Ohio Sea Grant Extension agent Dr. Scott Hardy chairs the public outreach subcommittee of the Cuyahoga River Area of Concern Advisory Committee, which recently had cause to celebrate.

"There were ten total beneficial use impairments (BUIs) when the river was first designated as an AOC, and of those ten, we've just in the past few months had two delisted," Hardy said. "Those two are degradation of aesthetics and restrictions on recreation and public access, and they were officially removed from the list in late 2017. We're also hoping to get restrictions on fish consumption removed in the next few months."

Hardy continues to work with the Cuyahoga River AOC Advisory Committee, a collaboration with a number of other local and regional agencies and non-profit organizations, on removal of the remaining eight BUIs. Their goal is to have the river completely delisted as an Area of Concern by the end of 2025.
